Thought for the month...

Be the silent watcher of your thoughts and behaviour.

You are beneath the thinker.

You are the stillness beneath the mental noise.

You are the love and joy beneath the pain.

- Eckhart Tolle

“Brotherhood and Sisterhood of man kind
As we walk may we walk in one step for the furtherance of man and woman kind.
As we speak may the words be with one voice for the peace of all. For it is with the understanding behind the greater knowledge, that we are able to Walk a greater walk and talk a better talk.

It is through the binding of all, that this is able to take place.

We are all helped from greater sources and forces than what is available to us on this earth plane.

And through understanding that these forces work within us all, that we are able to be guided towards a more loving, peaceful future.

We as a church, send our healing prayers to those that remain on this earth in grief and bereaved from the Christchurch tragedy.

We ask for a blessing on you all, and that the world may unite as it is uniting now, through sadness and a conduct that none of us
approve.

Our hearts are with those who have suffered over a loss too difficult to explain and our hands are

Stretched out to help in any way we are able.
It is through the hands of one man that there is so much suffering and sorrow. It is now up to the hands of us all to unite and follow the brother and sisterhood of man and woman kind, so we are able to make greater tomorrows in the voice of one and walk knowing we are united as one.

THE LIGHT THAT IS LIFE

Think often over these things...

... Even with man's present limited understanding he can recognise God as omnipotent, omniscient and omnipresent; and one and all of you have had demonstrations of love and wise guidance which have convinced you of an intelligent and loving Power behind your life.

Sometimes, of course, this Power has directed you into situations which you dislike, and you suffer because you decide that things have gone wrong; that nothing you wished to happen has occurred. But when you become more enlightened you will no longer see things in this way. You will know that God's laws are just, perfect and true, and that whatever happens in your outer life, however undesirable it may seem to the outer mind, has always a compensating blessing behind it.

When you have been relieved of a former condition to which you were clinging, this is like a parent releasing from a baby's fingers a plaything in which the parent sees harm or danger: the baby screams, but the wise mother gently says 'No, my child, here is something better' and offers her baby something more suitable.

Apply this illustration to your own life and its happenings and *you will learn in time the value of acceptance. Try to accept what happens, knowing that God is wise in all His giving, and perhaps even wiser in His withholding or taking away. The whole point is that when the human soul evolves and expands in consciousness of God it cannot really lose anything. Only its own limited consciousness prevents the soul from recognising that all is here, all is present.

People who spend much time in prayer, or meditation on God are sometimes misunderstood by their fellows, who say that action is better than prayer. True, action is right at the right time, but action should result from meditation and prayer, and never from emotional stress.
